Your attention is called to the advertisements in this issue. The merchants of Gainesboro appreciate your trade and take this means of telling you of any bargains they may have to offer and also to announce the arrival of new goods which are placed at your disposal and inspection. By closely watching the columns of this paper you will learn the names of our business men who invite you to deal with them and you can rest assured that they will treat you right. The progressive, wide-awake merchant will always let his customers know of the arrival of new goods at once by advertising. Be sure to read the ads in this issue.

Gainesboro is not a dead town by any means, as some may think. More business is done here than ever was before. We are not desirous of having the public think we are suffering from a boom. We are enjoying an increase of business and prosperity. People are bringing in produce and money to exchange for goods, and our merchants are paying the highest market prices for produce and are selling their merchandise as cheap as you will find in any place, and the people are not slow to take advantage of the opportunity and get the bargains as advertised by our merchants.

Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Montgomery and children, of Tullahoma, are visiting the former's brother, R. A. Montgomery, and family.

Mrs. H. G. Young and daughter, Mrs. Hugh B. Moorman have gone to Nashville for a brief stay.

HOTEL FOR SALE

The Gainesboro Hotel, the only hotel in the town centrally located. It has a large kitchen and dining room, postoffice, lobby, and 20 bed rooms, besides halls and porches. Quite a lot of furniture and other equipment goes with the house. This hotel is a money maker, and will be sold to the right party on easy terms. Possession given Jan. 1, 1923.

J. B. Birdwell, of Whitleyville, transacted business in Gainesboro, Monday.

H. Grady Gore and family have gone to Lebanon to reside. Mr. Gore is a young lawyer by profession, and during his stay of several years with us, had built up a large practice, not only here but in the courts of adjoining counties as well. They are splendid folks, and we are sure we speak the sentiment of the people of Gainesboro, when we state that we deeply regret to give them up. May success and happiness continue with them, is our sincere wish.

J. T. Jackson, of Tulsa, Okla., and two sisters, Matalene and Mary, of Granville, are visiting their sister, Mrs. C. C. Gore.
